

Drama and Theatre

A Level Drama and Theatre studies provides students with the opportunity to develop their interest and enjoyment in drama and theatre, both as participants and as informed members of an audience. The course aims to foster students' enthusiasm for and critical appreciation of the subject.

This course also aims to develop students' understanding and appreciation of the significance of social, cultural and historic influences on the development of drama and theatre. Thus, the subject links in very well with English Literature and History.

This subject is not an easy option as it demands a high degree of analysis. Much of the course is taught through practical workshops but there are some theory sessions. Students keep very detailed 'Learning Logs' where they are encouraged to reflect on and evaluate their learning so that they become confident and independent interpreters of drama and theatre.

The course involves a big time commitment as there is practical coursework requiring rehearsals outside of lessons. Additionally theatre visits will often be organised during evenings and weekends.

How is A Level Drama and Theatre assessed?

60% of the A-level will be assessed through non-exam assessment, 40% through a written exam.

Component 1: Drama and Theatre

What's assessed?

- Knowledge and understanding of drama and theatre
- Study of two set plays
- Analysis and evaluation of the work of live theatre makers

How is it assessed?

- Written exam: 3 hours (Open book)
- 40% of A-level

Questions

- Section A: one question (from a choice) on one of the set plays.
- Section B: one two part question on a given extract from one of the set plays.
- Section C: one question on the work of theatre makers in a single live theatre production.

Component 2: Creating Original Drama (Practical)

What's assessed?

- Process of creating devised drama.
 - Performance of devised drama (students may contribute as a performer or director).
- Devised piece must be influenced by the work and methodologies of one theatre practitioner.

This component is marked internally by Miss Price and moderated by AQA.

Component 3: Making Theatre (Practical)

What's assessed?

- Practical exploration and interpretation of Extract 1, 2 and 3, each taken from a published play. The methodology of a theatre practitioner must be applied to Extract 3. Extract 3 is to be performed as a final assessed piece (students may contribute as performer or director).
- Reflective report analysing and evaluating theatrical interpretation of all three extracts.

How is it assessed?

- Performance of Extract 3 and a reflective report
- 30% of A-level

This component is marked by AQA external examiner.

Set plays

Students will study and explore practically two set plays:

The following play has been selected to represent significant drama through the ages.

- Bertolt Brecht The Caucasian Chalk Circle

The following play represents 20th and 21st century drama:

- Steven Berkoff Metamorphosis

Theatre Trips

Theatre Trips will be organised throughout the year to support the students' study of Section C of the Written Exam wherein they analyse Live Theatre. Attendance to at least one of the theatre trips organised is compulsory in order to fulfil the demands of the written exam component. Approximate cost: £30 per trip. The cost of trips to local theatres may be less due to no travel expenses.
