Welcome from the Headteacher

I am delighted that you are interested in the role of Design and Technology Technician at St Joseph's College. We are excited to welcome applications from dynamic, forward-thinking professionals and to grow the staff of this amazing school.

About the school

St Joseph's College is an outstanding, oversubscribed mixed Catholic grammar school with a 90 year tradition of excellence. The school is part of the Edmund Rice family of schools, founded by the Christian Brothers and following the charism of Blessed Edmund Rice. In January 2026 we became part of the Laetare Catholic Multi-academy Trust, a unique Catholic Mat for Religious Order schools. Our Catholic ethos is very important to us but not all our staff are Catholic. We embrace diversity and welcome staff from all backgrounds and traditions. All of our students take a full and active role in all aspects of the religious life of the school. All staff, regardless of religious commitment, uphold the Catholic ethos of the school.

As a semi-selective school in Years 7 – 11, students must attain a standardised score of 105 in the entrance examination to be eligible for one of the 150 places. We are always oversubscribed and our intake reflects the ethnic, cultural and social diversity of the region. We have over 1,100 fantastic students on roll, including a sixth form of 400 drawing successful students from schools across the city and beyond. We offer a full range of GCSEs and A level courses and academic standards are consistently very high - we expect the best for and from our students.

We love our 1932 building, but in the last few years several million pounds has been invested in our premises. We have two purpose built sixth form blocks, a specialist Sports Hall and the school owns extensive playing fields beyond our site.

Along with traditional values of exemplary behaviour, hard work and the highest standards, we embrace leading-edge practice and an ethos of continued staff development. Subject expertise is very important to our knowledge-engaged teaching and we are committed to lifelong learning and self-development. We are nationally recognised, having been awarded Teaching School Hub status, meaning that we lead on teacher training, the Early Career Framework and the delivery of all NPQs for the 317 schools of Cheshire East and Cheshire West and Chester. This is a fantastic place to build your career.

Why come to work at St Joseph's College?

We look after our staff very well; our ethos is grounded in care, a warm friendly atmosphere and the highest academic and behaviour standards. We are committed to developing the whole person so that our students and staff are enriched academically, spiritually, morally and socially. The 120 teaching and support staff are energetic, creative, utterly dedicated and very supportive of each other.

We mix the best of the traditional and the modern; we have a house system, a school song, a fine tradition of sports and games and we also have a vibrant musical and cultural life, we get involved in social justice campaigns, linking with schools across the world. Our students and staff are all part of a huge and very proud global community.

If you visit St Joseph's, I know that you will be struck by the friendliness and courtesy of the students who really are exceptional young people. Relationships between staff and students are excellent. Students are respectful but at the same time warm and friendly, and parents and governors are very supportive of the school.

I genuinely believe that we have developed a very special community at St Joseph's College of which I am very proud.

I look forward to receiving your application and wish you the best of luck.

Charlotte Slattery - Headteacher

Our Mission Statement

All we do at St Joseph's College is framed under the mission of 'Head, Hand, Hear.' St Joseph's College seeks to develop the whole person. We are a Catholic School inspired in our mission by the vision of life that is found in the teaching of the Gospel, the Church and in Jesus, who came that we 'may have life and have it to the full.'

In striving to fulfil this mission we continue the work of the Christian Brothers and its founder Blessed Edmund Rice. In practice this means that we seek to:

1. Encourage, support and inspire young people and the wider school community in the journey of faith. Create a well-ordered community where everyone is valued and respected.
2. Develop the intellectual, creative, physical, spiritual and religious potential of every pupil and encourage involvement in extra-curricular activities such as sport, music, drama and community service.
3. Work in partnership with parents, parishes, local industry and commerce, and the wider community in a spirit of mutual service for the benefit of all.
4. Prepare our young people for life beyond school and in particular develop personal integrity, moral values and a sense of justice so that they 'act justly, love tenderly and walk humbly with God'.
(Micah 6:8)

St Joseph's College is a school like no other. Where many focus solely on examination results, the whole ethos of St Joseph's is focused on each and every individual who passes through our gates. We want to focus on developing their wider knowledge, their ability to make links between their subjects, their ability to question and wonder. We want to feed their soul giving them access to great thinking, profound spiritual experiences, wonderful cultural opportunities and a passion for lifelong learning.

If education, in the truest sense of the word, is about bringing the best out of children, then delivering a raft of A and A* grades is hugely important but we aim to do even more. We aim to inspire and support our pupils so they can become the very best they can be in every single way. Our philosophy is therefore focused around the traits which we want all St Joseph's students to acquire before taking their place in the adult world.

We want our pupils to be inspired by everything they do at St Joseph's College, both inside and outside of the classroom, so they leave school as interested and interesting people. We want our pupils to adopt a genuinely intellectual approach to their academic work and to their view of the world around them, in the knowledge that a St Joseph's College education is only the beginning of an exciting and life-long journey of learning. We want our pupils to become truly independent, as those who can think, learn and cope independently will be the leaders and game-changers of the future. We want each and every pupil to be valued and spiritually developed as an individual, so their St Joseph's experience is much more than just going to school – rather, it is the journey to self. And we want our pupils to be inclusive in all dealings with other people, so they leave the College not in a bubble of privilege and elitism, but with the ability to engage with their local, national and international communities, and with a burning desire to do good in the world.

What makes St Joseph's College outstanding?

The school was founded by the Christian Brothers in 1932. As a Catholic School we are inspired in our mission by the vision of life that is found in the teaching of the Gospel, the Church and in Jesus who came that we "may have life and have it to the full" (John 10:10).

In striving to fulfil this mission we continue the work of the Christian Brothers and its founder Blessed Edmund Rice. St Joseph's College seeks to develop the whole person and as a result the pastoral care of our students is of paramount importance.

Pupils at St Joseph's College today are given the opportunity and encouraged to share in the vision and work of Edmund Rice. As one person has put it, their mission is to be like the "brave, radical, non-conformist, social justice activist" that Edmund was. Many who have passed through this school have involved themselves in fundraising, community service, assisting children at local Primary Schools, summer time schemes with children from the inner cities of Liverpool, Dublin and children with severe special needs. We hope that in "educating the whole person" we are not only providing for pupils of St Joseph's all that Edmund set out to provide in terms of a caring, nurturing, stimulating environment but also an awareness of the needs of those whose lives are in some way poorer than their own and what they can themselves do for them.

Achievement is outstanding because students make rapid progress in all subject areas. The teaching at St Joseph's College is inspiring, exciting and creative. A challenging learning environment is created where students relish the opportunities to explore, investigate and develop their skills.

Students are eager to learn, proud of their school and ambitious to achieve well. They are courteous, polite, respectful and highly effective communicators. They embrace the numerous opportunities to contribute to their school, local and wider communities. Students feel safe and nurtured in this school.

The sixth form is outstanding. Students follow mainly academic courses and most go on to university. They leave the sixth form ready to make a contribution to the world around them.

Outstanding leadership and management pervade the school. Leaders are never complacent, continually driving improvement. The school knows itself exceptionally well and is always forward facing embracing the largest pedagogical research.
